SUMMARY

Highly adaptable, self-driven individual with a passion for learning and a knack for problem solving. I am looking to establish a foothold in the rapidly growing and increasingly innovative tech industry presence in Saint Louis.

PROJECT EXPERIENCE

Cheese-mvc-persistent–github.com/CameronParis/cheese-mvc-persistent
- LC101 Assignment
- Built a Java MVC web app to allow the user to add, remove, and create menus of cheeses
- Successfully persisted the user data using JPA
- Utilized Thymeleaf for dynamic HTML rendering

BricKollect–github.com/CameronParis/bric-kollect
- LC101 Apprenticeship Project–still under construction
- Utilizes calls to the Rebrickable API, a popular source of Lego data
- Will be a full-featured website with user signup/login; users will be able to track and review their lego collections, develop their own creations, and view and rate the creations of other users
- Java backend using Thymeleaf and Bootstrap for HTML rendering and styling
- I am building a parallel version to teach myself JavaScript, Django, and Flask
